

talking points

What's the one thing you wish your teacher knew about you?

Hate it when you can't talk back? Well, you can with Young Post. Have your say and share with students around Hong Kong

Ng Cheuk-kwan, 13, Po Leung Kuk Tang Yuk Tien College

I am an impatient person and I usually can't wait until my teacher gives me the answer to questions. I hope my teacher can forgive me for occasionally being impolite in class.

Tang Chi-ho, 16, Fung Kai Liu Man Shek Tong Secondary School

Thank you for the six years of teaching. If I could have one wish, I hope I can continue to learn with you.

Liam Him Kit-fung, 14, Chinese International School

I wish my teacher knew that I am actually a pretty cool person outside school.

Lam Mei, 15, Christian Alliance S. C. Chan Memorial College

I wish my class teacher knew more about my interpersonal relationships. During our teenage years, we tend to get a little emotional so there could be problems between friends. Teachers' advice may help students to resolve such disputes.

Rai Anna-L, 16, St Margaret's Girls' College, Hong Kong

I sincerely hope all the teachers would realise that a class is like a private cult group and we will never tell on any of our fellow members no matter how bad the deed. And this is not just a matter of loyalty; it's all about trust.

Kate Ng, 18, University of Hong Kong

I don't like when teachers ask a question which is not directed at a particular student in a class. Then if no one wants to answer, except that extrovert kid who always puts his hand up, the question is either too obvious or too difficult.

You're welcome to join the conversation at www.yp.scmp.com. In our next Talking Points, we'll discuss: If you were to introduce an extracurricular activity, what would it be? We are now accepting answers from readers for this new topic. To take part, e-mail your answer with your name, age and school name, plus a high-res photo of yourself (no less than 1MB), to yp@scmp.com by Monday lunchtime next week.